1. Introduction

This guidance explains what is included in the legal definition of ‘regulated activity with children’, describing the specific activities, establishments, and positions that are eligible for an Enhanced DBS check with a Children’s Barred List check in the child workforce. This applies whether the individuals are paid or unpaid.

If your organisation employs people who do not meet all the conditions outlined in this guidance, they may be eligible for a different level of check. You will need to refer to our website (<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/dbs-eligibility-guidance>) to check this out. If your organisation employs people in different roles who perform similar duties to those outlined in the examples here, you should refer to our online guidance as they may be eligible for the same level of check.

Any changes to a role, or the activities that a person carries out, can affect the level of check that is applicable. More information can be found in our eligibility guidance on our website. (<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/dbs-eligibility-guidance>.)

This guidance applies to criminal record checks (DBS checks) in England, Wales, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man. Information on checks available in Scotland can be obtained from Disclosure Scotland (<https://www.mygov.scot/organisations/disclosure-scotland/>). Information on checks available in Northern Ireland can be obtained from Access NI (<https://www.nidirect.gov.uk/campaigns/accessni-criminal-record-checks>).

2. What is regulated activity?

Regulated activity is work that a barred person must not do. It is defined in the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 (SVGA), which has been amended by the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012 (PoFA). It excludes any activities carried out in the course of family relationships or as part of any personal, non-commercial relationships.

A child is any person who has not yet reached the age of 18 years. However, if an activity relates solely to their employment, for example, induction training when starting work or supervising them at work, and they are 16 or 17, then the trainer or supervisor would not be in regulated activity.

If you are employing or assessing someone to do work that is regulated activity with children, you could request an Enhanced DBS check, with a check of the Children's Barred List.

When you request a DBS check to assess someone to carry out regulated activity with children this means that you are a regulated activity provider (RAP).

As a RAP, you have a legal duty to refer an individual to DBS where the relevant conditions are met.

For information about referrals, you can:

Regulated activity with children is made up of either:

- what activity a person does as part of their job and how often they do it
- where the work takes place and how often the person will work there
- working in specified positions (in Wales only)

More information regarding what constitutes regulated activity with children can be found in the below table.
