

Brockley Primary School

PSHE Policy

Introduction:

This policy has been shared and approved by the teaching staff and school Governors.

At Brockley Primary School, the PSHE programme of study brings together citizenship with personal well-being through a values-based education. It is intended to support the school in developing a coherent whole-school approach to personal, social, health and economic well-being (PSHE).

It supports all five outcomes of the ECM agenda and provides a context for school to fulfil our responsibilities to:

- promote the physical, social and emotional well-being of pupils;
- provide sex and relationships education;
- promote community cohesion;
- achieve the aims of the whole curriculum.

See the SRE Policy for further details of how we meet this responsibility.

Through PSHE, we endeavour to foster the notions of responsibility and empowerment to promote a sense of achievement and to enhance self-confidence. PSHE education is guided by the values of:

Honesty
Kindness
Trust
Responsibility
Friendship
Self-control
Empathy
Respect
Tolerance

Early Years Foundation Stage - Brockley Primary School PSHE Policy 2015-16

In the Early Years Foundation Stage, PSHE is encouraged through the 'Personal, Social and Emotional Development' curriculum.

PSHE is about making connections and is strongly linked to play. PSHE is taught through activities that are part of topics, as well as on an individual basis to develop personal skills such as dressing, feeding and toileting. Positive experiences are built through daily opportunities to share and enjoy a range of different activities. The children are given the opportunity to engage in social activities, as members of a small group or occasionally during whole school activities.

KS1 and KS2

The PSHE curriculum divides the year into values and PSHE may be linked to these values or taught on a more individual basis to promote necessary skills. Personal development or intervention groups may be based around our core values of honesty, kindness and trust if class teachers deem these to be relevant. Class teachers may approach the PSHE leader to discuss how to meet the needs of children.

The children are encouraged to engage in activities that promote an understanding of themselves as growing and changing individuals, and as members of a wider community, based on their own first hand experiences. These activities also encourage pupils to understand how their choices and behaviours can affect others. The children are encouraged to play and learn alongside, and then collaboratively with, their peers. They may use their personal and social skills to develop or extend these activities. The children are also given the opportunity to make choices about their health and environment and are encouraged to develop a caring attitude to others. SEAL materials and themes may be incorporated into the curriculum. References for materials relevant to the value focus are given on the PSHE curriculum.

Planning:

Class teachers plan for PSHE in accordance with the PSHE curriculum. This is usually done in year groups.

They acknowledge the importance of personalised learning and the need to plan for the range of attainment levels within a class. This is achieved by:

- setting individual targets based on the assessment approach;
- setting different tasks within sessions;
- using resources appropriate to each individual.

Implementation:

PSHE will be delivered by the class teacher with the support of the PSHE leader as necessary. PSHE may be delivered using a multi-sensory approach (for students working at P4 and below) by a teacher or TA. Visiting professionals may provide talks/workshops to pupils. PSHE values may also be introduced in and explored within both whole school and Key Stage assemblies.

In addition to this, PSHE is delivered through a range of whole school activities. Pupils are given opportunities to join in and contribute to local and national initiatives e.g. anti-bullying week, community cohesion projects and fund-raising activities. Pupils may take part in school assemblies, be elected onto the Pupil Parliament and are encouraged to express their opinions. SEAL materials and themes may be incorporated into PSHE lessons. Pupils are offered a wide range of opportunities to enhance their learning and engage with the concepts and content of the subject through learning in other subjects and areas of the curriculum and out-of-school activities. School also subscribes to the Go-Givers a scheme of work for PSHE helping staff to plan lessons.

Assessment:

At Brockley Primary School, teachers integrate effective AfL in all areas of the curriculum. In PSHE, this specifically involves:

- assessing all children's starting point during the first lesson on a value;

Brockley Primary School PSHE Policy 2015-16

- planning learning which builds on children's prior knowledge and shows progression in PSHE learning, not Literacy learning
- implementing assessment-based planning so that lessons consistently meet children's needs
- using self and peer assessment to involve children in understanding their own learning and next steps

- encouraging children to feed back to class teachers about which aspects of a value they would like to learn more
- completing end of unit assessments, either as a whole class, in groups, with a peer or individually

Equal Opportunities:

Within PSHE, staff set high expectations. Each individual is ensured access to a full and varied programme of activities, with opportunities for all pupils to participate fully and effectively, including boys and girls, pupils with diverse additional educational needs, and pupils from all social and cultural backgrounds. Pupils are equally respected for whom they are and for the contributions they make regardless of their background. Knowledge, skills and understanding are taught in ways that suit pupils' current attainment level, and care is taken that all learning is appropriate so that pupils can make progress and show what they can achieve.

In order to provide access to learning and to meet pupils' diverse needs, specific action will be taken by staff to:

- create effective learning environments, providing for pupils who need additional support with communication, language and literacy;
- provide a multi-sensory approach using a variety of media;
- provide equality of opportunity through teaching approaches and personalisation of tasks and materials as appropriate;
- use appropriate summative and formative assessment approaches to inform future learning;
- set targets for learning and behaviour including taking steps to help pupils manage their own emotions.

Computing:

Computing should be used in PSHE when it has the potential to drive learning and progress. It is useful to record pupils' learning and performances as they develop, using digital cameras and/or camcorders. Children may also use a video camera or iPad to record these themselves.

Students will be encouraged to:

- find things out from a variety of sources, selecting and using information to meet their needs;
- develop their ideas using Computing tools to refine their learning and enhance its quality and accuracy.
